To Whom It May Concern;

The following products listed below that are produced by Butter Buds Inc. are within the guidelines of the Buy American Provision of the National School Lunch Program. This provision has made a determination requiring school food authorities to purchase, the maximum extent practicable, domestic commodity or product.

In order to meet these qualifications a food product needs to be produced and processed in the United States, utilizing substantial agricultural commodities that are produced in the United States.

Substantial means that at a minimum, over 51 percent of the final processed products consist of agricultural commodities that were grown domestically.
